

Survey

Purpose: to understand what are the most common issues in academic research and what functionality would help to avoid such issues

Dates: the 20th of June – the 31st of July 2021

Participants: 20 students and 10 professors from Higher School of Economics, Business Informatics

Some of the results:

What functionality of academic research support would be the most useful?

